

Acknowledgments

This report was prepared by Maile Beatty and Abbie Averbach of the HIV/AIDS Bureau and Jim Murphy, Bikash Verma, Mukachilima Chikuba, Richard Knowlton and Eric Rubinstein of the HIV/AIDS Surveillance Program of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Jean Flatley McGuire, Assistant Commissioner of Public Health and Director of the HIV/AIDS Bureau and Alfred DeMaria, Assistant Commissioner of Public Health and Director of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Control, provided guidance for the report. Special thanks go to Research Assistants: Ana Maria Lopez Gomez, Lisa Goldberg, JP Glutting and Jason Cho of the HIV/AIDS Bureau. Invaluable advice on content and format was provided by the Epidemiologic Profile Advisory Group of the Massachusetts HIV Prevention Community Planning Group including Virginia Cram, Jack Field, Bob Hitt, Ron Macon, Joe McKee, Catherine O'Connor, Steve Perrault and Susan Blake.

In addition to the HIV/AIDS Surveillance Program, data in this report were collected through dedicated efforts of staff from the Counseling & Testing Program of the HIV/AIDS Bureau; the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance Program of the Bureau of Health Statistics, Research & Evaluation; the Pediatric Spectrum of Disease and the Sexually Transmitted Disease Programs of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Control. Finally, we wish to acknowledge the clinicians who are responsible for reporting cases of HIV and AIDS to the State and those people infected with HIV and diagnosed with AIDS who supply vital and often personal information about themselves, enabling us to identify and respond to emerging trends in the epidemic.
